

Answer to Problem

I chose the first choice: Send an ACK immediately when an out-of-order message is received, and drop all messages received out of order

There's no impacts interoperablity.

because no matter we drop messages or not, the sender will resend all messages from the out of order index.